

Facts & Figures

Funded by	Free State of Bavaria
07/19/66	Founding of the Hochschule für Fernsehen und Film München
11/06/67	Commencement of educational activities
1967 to 1988	The HFF Munich operates from an old villa at 7 Kaulbachstraße. Due to the limited space, many of the workshops and projects take place in the studios of various broadcasters – BR TV on Rundkunplatz and in Freimann, Bavaria Film in Geiseltasteig, and ZDF TV in Unterföhring.
1988 to 2011	In a former bed-spring factory in the Giesing district of Munich, the HFF can accommodate all the departments under one roof.
2007	The HFF Munich celebrates its fortieth anniversary Cornerstone ceremony for the new HFF Munich building at 33 Gabelsbergerstraße, in the Munich Museum Quarter
08/01/11	The HFF Munich relocates to its new premises
05/07/12	In memory of its Alumni Bernd Eichinger, HFF Munich gets a new address: Bernd-Eichinger-Platz 1
10/01/15	Prof. Bettina Reitz takes office as the first full-time president of the HFF Munich.
2017	Anniversary and ceremonial act: 50 years of HFF Munich
Current number of students	~ 350
Graduates to date	~ 1.800

Studying at HFF Munich

All applicants select one of the five degree programs:

Feature Film & Television Feature	Documentary Film & Television Journalism	Production & Media Business	Screenplay	Cinematography
--	---	--	-------------------	-----------------------

Three elective programs are available to students seeking additional specialization:

Television Journalism	Advertising	Creative Writing	Image, Light, Space
Montage		Serial Storytelling	VFX

Courses from these two departments are required curricula for all students:

Media Science	Technology
----------------------	-------------------

Graduates of a university or university-equivalent art academy are eligible to apply for the postgraduate study course Art Direction and Production Design (offered in collaboration with the August Everding Bavarian Theater Academy)

Theatre-, Film- & Television Criticism

Pressekontakt

Jette Beyer | j.beyer@hff-muc.de | 089-68957-8502
Anja Menge | a.menge@hff-muc.de | 089-68957-8503